The Editors Musings

Welcome to the December newsletter

By the time you read this Christmas will be over, and we will be looking forward to the new year. We had a lovely dinner and catch up at Kathies Kitchen in the Franklin Club, it was nice to have a quiet wind down at the end of a busy year.

I have certainly loved seeing what images come in for critiquing each month and admire the imagination & ingenuity of our members, keep it up it's awesome.

We will not be having remote judging in February, so you will submit your images as usual by mid day on Sunday 10th February. Subject Minimalist/Negative Space. Get those thinking caps on. A couple of links below for inspiration.

We have some interesting outings scheduled for 2019, our big overnight will be held at the Kaiaua Shorebird Centre in March. Grace is already busy organising a programme for the weekend. It will be fun, I am looking forward to it. And she will keep us informed on each of the subsequent outings as they get closer.

My challenge over the holiday break, apart from doing the assignment is to get up to speed with Affinity Photo editing programme that I have recently purchased. After the limitations of using Elements 9 for a number of years I am looking forward to mastering the techniques that will hopefully get me a bit closer to the scope of Photoshop CC.

Below are a couple of images from my garden that have been processed with my new programme. Have a great holiday if you are fortunate enough to get one.

Keep snapping, from your editor, Bev

Quote of the month

“We will open the book. It’s pages will be blank. We are going to put words on them ourselves. The book is called Opportunity and it’s first chapter is New Year’s Day.”
