The Editors Musings

Welcome to the January newsletter

And welcome to the new year. Take a deep breath and into it.

I hope you have all had a nice break and are rested, refreshed and ready to tackle a new year of fun, photography & companionship.

I had an interesting experience with my camera battery a few weeks ago. It seemed to charge quickly which was a bit unusual but when I next went to use my camera the battery was completely flat. Fortunately it wasn't an important shoot so it wasn't a total disaster. I recharged the battery when I got home & then checked the camera manual. And surprise, I found that you could check the recharge status of the battery. Who knew! Should read the manual more often. :-) Once the battery was charged I put it in the camera and checked it, to discover that it was on it's last legs.

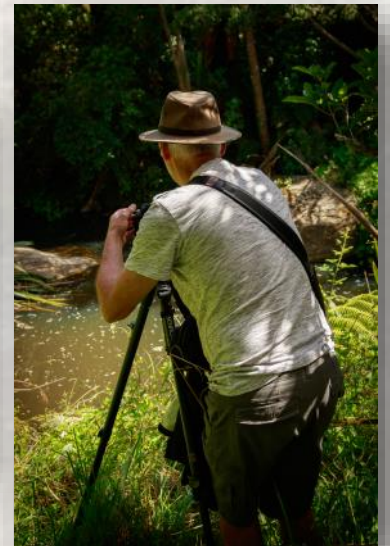

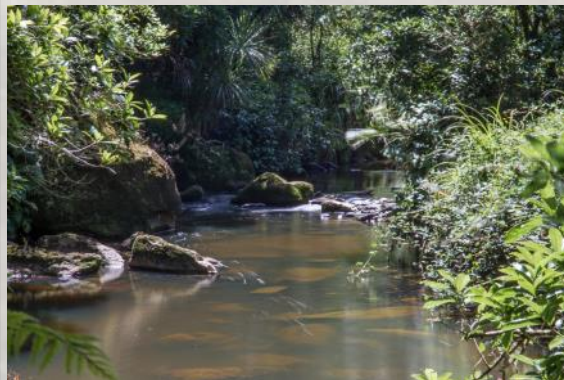

I purchased a new battery, put it in the camera and it came up with three green boxes, so I'm back in business. On reading further, I discovered that I could register each battery to my camera to check them each out. So simple, and I hope it saves someone else from the dilemma of having a suddenly failed battery.

Make sure you bring along your assignments on next club night, see you on the 12th, for an evening of Minimalism & Negative Space.

Nikau Caves Outing

On Sunday 20th January we drove through misty drizzle to the caves café at Waikaretu. We were a small group but we had a nice leisurely morning tea and chat, then located a map for the track to the waterfall. We drove to the carpark and some of us started the walk complete with cameras & tripods. Ewen chose not to tackle the lumpy track. But, the rest of us didn't get far. The bush was beautiful, it was nice and cool and photographic opportunities were all around us. It was supposed to be an hours return walk to the waterfall, we spent an hour in the bush & maybe covered a tenth of the track. Might have to tackle it again sometime with a bit more resolve. It was a good day as ever.

If you are looking for an action packed weekend before we get into our planned outings the weekend of Saturday 16th & Sunday 17th February promises to provide just that.

On Saturday 16th at the Pukekohe Park Raceway there will be the

'Rebel Round Up'

from 9am to 11pm

Cost $20

Hotrod, Vintage & Rockabilly Festival

<https://www.facebook.com/events/391236338016052/>

Opportunity for photography for many of our subjects for the year, maybe even

'Rainy Day'. ;-)

Then on Sunday 17th February the

'Onetangi Beach Races'

Will be held on Waiheke Island from 10am to 4 pm.

I checked out the public transport option to the venue.

If you catch the 6.13am train at Pukekohe, you can connect to the ferry to Waiheke and then bus to Onetangi.

Quite an adventure in itself.

Rotary Sunset Coast Walk

207 Kohekohe-Karioitahi Road

Waiuku

Sunday 24th February 2019

Start 7.30 am to 1 pm

Cost

Come along for a walk above the magnificent west coast, bring a picnic, stop & admire the views & catch your breath,
(the views are breath-taking & so is the terrain).

We will aim to start as early as possible to avoid the heat of the day.
